FORWARD

The Dickson County Fair Association presents for approval this book for the 2022 Dickson County Fair. The five day exposition will be held at the Fairgrounds in Dickson, Tennessee on September 1-5, 2022. These are brand new dates and times!

The primary purpose of issuing this book is to acquaint interested citizens with the large list of cash premiums offered in the various departments, and to urge as many as possible to participate in the exhibits shown.

A good fair is known for its exhibits, with both quality and quantity a prime factor. If you have not already done so, start TODAY planning your exhibits to compete with your neighbor for the attractive cash awards and thus have the satisfaction that you have contributed to the Fair's success.

The Dickson County Fair Association wishes to thank every individual who has cooperated so heartily in the administration of presenting the Fair for the past years. Thanks especially are due to the Department Superintendents and their assistants, UT Agricultural Extension Agents, Future Farmers and 4-H Club boys and girls for their magnificent contribution to the Fair's success over the past years. Without your cooperation and the generous patronage of the public, our past efforts would have counted for but little. We solicit and beg of all a continuance of such personal interest in our future efforts to make the Dickson County Fair each year "BIGGER AND BETTER THAN EVER!"

A Message from the Board of Directors...

Hello and welcome! It is almost time for the 98th Annual Dickson County Fair. The fair will open on Thursday, September 1 and run through Monday, September 5 (Labor Day). We know this is a big change, but we feel it is a good change. We are looking forward to an outstanding 5 day event!

This year's theme is "Country Pride, County Wide". We take pride in the many generations from all over Dickson County that have participated and enjoyed our past events and will continue to keep the next generation at the forefront to help guide future success and continue the promotion of agriculture and education in this county.

The Dickson County Fair would not be what it is today without the continued support and dedication of our volunteers, sponsors, and community partners. It is our privilege to work alongside all of those that devote countless hours to create lasting memories for all fair attendees. There is no way to name each individual who makes the fair possible.

Please don't forget to mark your calendars for the new fair dates of September 1 - September 5, 2022. We look forward to seeing all the new attendees as well as those that have continued their support for many years. Let's all join together to create memories that will last a lifetime. Come on out and experience it all!

OF AGRICULTURE
DIVISION OF ANIMALS INDUSTRIES

FROM: Samantha Beaty, DVM
State Veterinarian

Special Comments:

1. It is expected that all exhibitors will bring only healthy animals to fairs and exhibitions. Although state and federal animal health officials will be performing some inspections, fair officials are responsible for ensuring that all animals entering fairs for exhibition are in overall good health and are accompanied by a Certificate of Veterinary Inspection. Animals showing clinical signs of contagious disease should be sent home immediately. Violations should be reported to the state veterinarian or his agent.

2. Certificate(s) of Veterinary Inspection are to accompany all animal(s) to the respective shows with the exception of in-state Tennessee equine and poultry. In-state Tennessee equine six (6) months of age and older must have a negative Equine Infectious Anemia test within the preceding twelve (12) months. Poultry assembled at shows or exhibitions should be accompanied by evidence of a negative test for Pullorum-Typhoid within 90 days, or be tested on-site prior to exhibition following strict biosecurity procedures, or originate directly from a flock which has been certified as Pullorum-Typhoid Clean under the Tennessee Poultry Improvement Plan. As part of increased awareness and surveillance for Avian Influenza and other poultry diseases, all bird's physical appearance should be assessed at the time testing is conducted.

3. Health certificates issued in satisfaction of these Tennessee Fair Regulations shall be good for 90 days for Tennessee livestock only.

4. Please note that exhibition requirements for out-of-state livestock are the same as regular import requirements.

5. Warts and ringworm are considered contagious and infectious diseases and are permissible exclusions only if considered inactive by the issuing veterinarian and noted as such on the Certificate of Veterinary Inspection.

6. Scabies, contagious ecthyma (soremouth), footrot, cutaneous fungal and bacterial infections (i.e. club lamb disease, caseous lymphadenitis) are considered contagious and infectious diseases, and are permissible exclusions only if considered inactive by the issuing veterinarian and noted as such on the Certificate of Veterinary Inspection.

7. Avian Influenza – All out-of-state poultry must originate directly from a Pullorum-Typhoid Clean Flock and a H5/H7 Avian Influenza Clean Flock, or be accompanied by evidence of a negative Pullorum-Typhoid test within ninety (90) days and a negative official Avian Influenza test within twenty-one (21) days.

Also, please note that if highly pathogenic Avian Influenza is detected in Tennessee or a neighboring state, the commingling of poultry at fairs and exhibitions may be suspended.

Fair Biosecurity

Below is a summary of recommendations for fair management by the National Assembly of State Animal Health Officials and the National Association of State Public Health Veterinarians to better protect fair attendees from disease:

- Provide easy access to hand washing stations.
- Post informational signage that includes the following messages:

- No eating or drinking in the animal areas.

- Wash hands frequently.
- No pacifiers, sipping cups or strollers in the animal exhibition areas.

- Discourage sleeping in the animal exhibition areas.

- If human or swine influenza-like-illness is associated with the exhibition, animal health and public health officials should be notified immediately.

- People who have influenza-like illness should leave the exhibition immediately and seek medical care. They should advise their health care provider about their fair attendance.

- People at high risk for developing severe complications from influenza should limit their exposure to swine.

Also, be aware of the potential exposure of fair attendees to E. coli 0157 from animals exhibited on the fairgrounds.

Music Under the Pavilion

Live every night of the fair

Thursday, September 1 - Monday September 5

6:00 - 9:00 PM

Featuring

Clayton Kaiser

Clayton is a country singer- songwriter out of Nashville, though he doesn't sound exactly like it. His western accent makes more ears perk up than less when he sings Johnny Cash and Waylon in dive bars across Middle Tennessee. Clayton will be entertaining us on Thursday, September 1 and Friday, September 2.

Yesterday's Country Band currently consists of 4 people who absolutely love and enjoy playing traditional country music! There is Jay Robinson, founding member, who plays drums, bass/rhythm guitar and sings lead vocals. John Hamilton plays bass and sings lead vocals. Next is Billy Clark who plays keyboard/fiddle and Terry Hasley who plays lead guitar and sings lead vocals. They are all local musicians who come together to share their gifts to achieve the music they desire. They are not looking for perfection but are trying to reach a level of excellence while having fun! We are excited to have Yesterday's Country Band with us on Saturday, September 3, Sunday, September 4 and Monday, September 5 from 6:00 - 9:00 PM.

Yesterday's Country

The University of Tennessee Extension is an off-campus division of the UT Institute of Agriculture. It is a statewide educational organization, funded by federal, state and local governments, that brings research-based information about agriculture, family and consumer sciences, and resource development to the people of Tennessee where they live and work. Extension agents are supported by area and state faculty as well as by the educational and research resources of USDA and the land-grant university system. The mission of Extension is to help people improve their lives through an educational process that uses scientific knowledge to address issues and needs.

Extension faculty members develop and carry out programs to meet the specific needs of local citizens. They use a variety of methods - farm and home visits, educational meetings, field demonstrations, publications, and mass media - to provide educational programs for both adults and youth.

Agriculture and Natural Resources programs are focused on maintaining the competitiveness of agriculture, enhancing environmental stewardship, protecting agriculture and communities from natural or induced threats, and improving the viability of rural communities. Soil and forage testing, plant and pest identification, and lawn and garden recommendations are among the services provided to farmers and homeowners in Dickson County.

Family and Consumer Sciences programming provides education in the areas of parent education, child development, financial management, food safety, health, and nutrition. UT Extension partners with the Dickson County Council of Family & Community Education (FCE) Clubs (formerly known as Home Demonstration Clubs) to strengthen individuals, families and communities through education, leadership development, and community service.

Educational youth development activities for boys and girls are carried out through 4-H Clubs, which are organized in schools and communities. 4-H Club membership is open to youth in grades four through twelve.

Programs in agriculture and natural resources, 4-H youth development, family and consumer sciences, and resource development. University of Tennessee Institute of Agriculture, U.S. Department of Agriculture, and county governments cooperating. UT Extension provides equal opportunities in programs and employment.
